Dear Patty:

I want to thank you for your time today. I am pleased to present for your consideration the terms for the Colorado Health Benefit Exchange (COHBE) to engage this firm to provide legal services to assist in the outsourcing activities and other contracting activities of COHBE as requested from time to time.

If these terms are acceptable, please reply by email and your reply will form a contract between COHBE. If you have any concerns, please let me know and I will endeavor to address them to your satisfaction.

Services will be provided by me at a rate of $200 an hour. Other personnel may be engaged with your advance approval, at rates you approve.

This firm does not charge for day to day expenses like regular mail, fax, and day to day printing or copying. Travel expenses and other extraordinary expenses like large printing or third party fees will be invoiced at actual cost with no mark up. Travel will only be as authorized by you in advance, and will be limited to coach class travel, reasonable business class lodging, mid-size or smaller rental car, and reasonable meals and incidentals, but not any expense for alcoholic beverages or entertainment.

Invoices will be submitted semi-monthly, and payment is due net 5; this firm reserves the right to charge interest at the rate of 1% per month on invoices not paid within 35 days of when due, but will discuss any late payment with you before charging late fees.

You agree that email is the preferred means of written communication, and you understand there is a risk of interception. If you desire greater security for any or all communications, please use fax, mail or overnight delivery, and this firm will comply with any request from COHBE regarding the form of written communications.

This engagement may be terminated at any time by written notice, and upon termination for any reason, this firm will provide all reasonable assistance you request to transition to other counsel, and COHBE will pay for all services rendered through termination, including all such transition assistance.

I work hard, am available around the clock, and endeavor to leave my clients delighted with my services. Please communicate your preferences and feedback to me, and I will receive your input positively and strive to be the best service provider you have. I look forward to being part of the team, and helping achieve the great mission of COHBE.

Marty
